Regulations on Entry to Thailand by Air
after 1 July 2022

As the COVID-19 situation in Thailand has improved accordingly and the Thai government has eased regulations and measures during the transition to the post-pandemic period, Thailand's Centre for COVID-19 Situation Administration (CCSA) issued Regulation No. 13/2565 on 23 June 2022 to revise entry regulations for travellers to Thailand after 1 July 2022 as follows:

1. All Thai and foreign travellers are not required to register for Thailand Pass before entering Thailand (previously, only Thai nationals were not required to register for Thailand Pass)

2. Foreign travellers are not required to have health insurance in Thailand (previously, they were required to have a minimum coverage of 10,000 USD for medical expenses in Thailand)

3. Upon arriving in Thailand, health control authorities will check the following documents:

3.1 Certificate of Vaccination or

3.2 For unvaccinated or not fully vaccinated travellers, negative RT-PCR or professional ATK test result (not self-ATK test) within 72 hours of travel.

4. Documentations for travellers who are minors:

4.1 Minors aged below 18 and travelling with fully vaccinated parents can enter Thailand under the same scheme as their parents.

4.2 Minors aged below 18 and travelling with unvaccinated or not fully vaccinated parents are to present a negative RT-PCR or professional ATK test result within 72 hours of travel. Minor aged below 6 are exempted from presenting the test result.

4.3 Minors aged between 5 – 17 who travel alone are required to present a certificate of vaccination with at least 1 dose of vaccination or a negative RT-PCR or professional ATK test result within 72 hours of travel

Please be noted that the airlines will check all the documentation before check-in. Upon arrival in Thailand, health control authorities might randomly check travellers' documentation. If the travellers fail to present valid required documents, they might be asked to take a Covid-19 test at their own expenses.
